

In the Land of Mareithia

Summary

Enter the adventurous and poignant world of Mareithia, where inhabitants on the great rainbow ship encounter star beings made of light particles, where fourteen-year-old Thea befriends unusual inner earth inhabitants, where glass-winged butterflies are rescued from exploding crystal caves and young Litan, touched by a treacherous substance, hounds others into the dark mountains.

Set in a natural environment of hyperactive bees, philosophical rabbit-like animals and flower-nosed moles and populated by intriguing villagers, In the Land of Mareithia is a novel of magical realism for readers who like to explore, laugh and learn.
